

Super Security

PLACES

Cove Security have travelled the lengths and breadths of the country installing security systems to the nation's largest supermarket and retail chains.

From the Shetland Islands to the Isle of Wight, you'll be hard pushed not to witness some of our work. Cove Security has been involved, from design stage through to system handover, in some of the largest stores in the UK (Including the UK's most energy efficient store in Cheetham Hill), as well as the smaller, local, express, metro and foodhall stores. This includes ATM pods and Petrol Filling Stations last minute design variations and bespoke solutions. Full system handover and group training sessions are arranged with store managers and security staff. Store specific documentation is also produced.

Systems installed and commissioned have included intruder alarm systems, CCTV systems and door entry/access control systems. These are both standalone and integrated with other services such as fire alarms. Products include Honeywell, Pelco, Vista, Ganz, GE.

Cove security has extensive product knowledge that has enabled efficient installation, often exceeding expectations for handover and completion dates, along with trouble free operation of systems up and down the country.
